

Conservation Corner

October 2021

Let's Make it Last, California

Californians have made great progress in recent years embracing wise water use as a daily habit. But our state's water future remains uncertain due to precipitation variability and a changing climate. It is more critical than ever that Californians work together to Save Our Water and make the world a better place for our children, grandchildren, and future generations.

SEE SAVE OUR WATER TOOLKIT

How to Save Water — Good Habits

Saving Water Around the Home

Doing laundry and showering uses an average of 196 gallons of water a day. Here are simple habits to help reduce water use around the house.

Saving Water Around the Yard

On average, Californians use 30-60% of their water outdoors. Here are some easy outdoor tips to reduce water use.

